

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An optical pickup apparatus includes an object lens opposed to a disk, a fixing section, and a bobbin suspended by the fixing section and four or more longitudinal elastic members for supporting the object lens. A plurality of 5 coil pairs symmetric with respect to a point (180 degrees), the centroid of the object lens placement face of the bobbin exist and are placed in a different surface.